Introduction

In 1998, NAGC developed and released the Pre-K—Grade 12 Gifted Program Standards to assist school districts in examining the quality of their programming for gifted learners. Recognizing that the ongoing evaluation and retooling of a successful gifted program is an evolutionary process, the NAGC Standards detail a framework including both minimum standards (nominal requirements for satisfactory programs) and exemplary standards (characteristics of excellence in gifted education programming).

To help you focus on important aspects of gifted programming, the current Standards are divided into seven criterion areas: Program Design, Program Administration and Management, Student Identification, Curriculum and Instruction, Socio-Emotional Guidance and Counseling, Professional Development, and Program Evaluation.

Several organizing principles guided the work of the task force, including:

- Standards should encourage but not dictate approaches of high quality.
- Standards represent both requisite program outcomes and standards for excellence.
- Standards establish the level of performance to which all educational school districts and agencies should aspire.
- Standards represent professional consensus on critical practice in gifted education that most everyone is likely to find acceptable.
- Standards are observable aspects of educational programming and are directly connected to the continuous growth and development of gifted learners.

Definitions

Gifted learners are "Students, children, or youth who give evidence of high achievement capability in areas such as intellectual, creative, artistic, or leadership capacity, or in specific academic fields, and who need services and activities not ordinarily provided by the school in order to fully develop those capabilities." (No Child Left Behind, 2002).

Gifted education programming is a coordinated and comprehensive structure of informal and formal services provided on a continuing basis intended to effectively nurture gifted learners.

A standard is a criterion-based designated level of performance against which programming success is measured (Worthen, Sanders, & Fitzpatrick, 1997). The Standards here allow us to evaluate existing programs, compare services across schools and districts, and provide guidance for developing new programs for gifted learners. This document contains both minimum standards—requisite conditions for acceptable gifted education practice and exemplary standards—desirable and visionary conditions for excellence in gifted education practice.

Gifted Education Programming Criterion: Professional Development

Description: Gifted learners are entitled to be served by professionals who have specialized preparation in gifted education, expertise in appropriate differentiated content and instructional methods, involvement in ongoing professional development, and who possess exemplary personal and professional traits.

Guiding Principles		Minimum Standards	0.110111	Exemplary Standards
A comprehensive staff development program must be provided for all school staff involved in the education of gifted learners.	1.1м	All school staff must be made aware of the nature and needs of gifted students. Teachers of gifted students must attend at least one professional development activity a year designed specifically for teaching gifted learners.	1.0E 1.1E	All school staff should be provided ongoing staff development in the nature and needs of gifted learners, and appropriate instructional strategies. All teachers of gifted learners should continue to be actively engaged in the study of gifted education through staff development or graduate
2. Only qualified personnel should be involved in the education of gifted learners.		All personnel working with gifted learners must be certified to teach in the areas to which they are assigned, and must be aware of the unique learning differences and needs of gifted learners at the grade level at which they are teaching. All specialist teachers in gifted education must hold or be	2.0E	degree programs. All personnel working with gifted learners should participate in regular staff development programs.
	2.2м	actively working toward a certification (or the equivalent) in gifted education in the state in which they teach. Any teacher whose primary responsibility for teaching includes gifted learners, must have extensive expertise in gifted education.	2.1E 2.2E	All specialist teachers in gifted education should possess a certification/specialization or degree in gifted education. Only teachers with advanced expertise in gifted education should have primary responsibility for the education of cifted learners.
3. School personnel require support for their specific efforts related to the education of gifted learners.	3.0M	School personnel must be released from their professional duties to participate in staff development efforts in gifted education.	3.0E	Approved staff development activities in gifted education should be funded at least in part by school districts or educational agencies.
4. The educational staff must be provided with time and other support for the preparation and development of the differentiated education plans, materials, curriculum.	4.0M	School personnel must be allotted planning time to prepare for the differentiated education of gifted learners.	4.0E	Regularly scheduled planning time (e.g., release time, summer pay, etc.) should be allotted to teachers for the development of differentiated educational programs and related resources.

Gifted Education Programming Criterion: Socio-Emotional Guidance and Counseling

Description: Gifted education programming must establish a plan to recognize and nurture the unique socio-emotional development of gifted learners.
Guiding Principles	Minimum Standards	Exemplary Standards
1. Gifted learners must be provided with differentiated guidance efforts to meet their unique socio-emotional development.	1.0M Gifted learners, because of their unique socio- emotional development, must be provided with guidance and counseling services by a counselor who is familiar with the characteristics and socio-emotional needs of gifted learners.	1.0E Counseling services should be provided by a counselor familiar with specific training in the characteristics and socio-emotional needs (i.e., underachievement, multipotentiality, etc.) of diverse gifted learners.
2. Gifted learners must be provided with career guidance services especially designed for their unique needs.	2.0M Gifted learners must be provided with career guidance consistent with their unique strengths.	2.0E Gifted learners should be provided with college and career guidance that is appropriately different and delivered earlier than typical programs.
