

WEEK OF RESPECT – October 7-11, 2019

The week beginning the first Monday in October is recognized as the Week of Respect in New Jersey schools (October 7-11). In addition, October 23-31 is denoted as “Red Ribbon Week” when we are reminded to Respect ourselves and make positive choices for our physical and emotional health.

Though we value ourselves as a community of RESPECT every day, this is a great time to have some fun wearing our RESPECT for everyone to see!

Monday October 7th: Let’s show our RESPECT for our community! Wear your Washington Township school or team gear! If you don’t have any, please wear BLUE! Show your community spirit!

Tuesday October 8th: Follow your dreams – wear pajamas* to school today (please wear regular shoes/no slippers – pajamas must be school appropriate)!

Wednesday October 9th: Show RESPECT for yourself and wear your FAVORITE outfit! I can’t wait to see what you choose ☺Be the best YOU that you can be!

Thursday October 10th: Recognize and respect our differences - wear fun, colorful socks today!

Friday October 11th: RESPECT yourself, believe in yourself - keep setting goals, working hard and being kind. Your future is BRIGHT! Wear bright colors and neon today!
